LOCAL PRODUCE MARKET

BUSINESS FAR AHEAD OF THAT OF MANY PRECEDING WEEKS.

Very Heavy Receipts of Fruits and Vegetables Only Whet the Demand -Grain Trade a Little Better.

The trade of the week closed on June while not fully up to expectations, was so in fact any week in May, that the wholeplain. During the week there were but few important changes in prices. In cotton goods there was a slight decline, while in quinine, alcohol and oils there were slight advances. Poultry declined half a cent and eggs the same. Butter ruled weak at quopoultry there is a good request, as is the pins, 60@65c per box. case with choice butter, but an unusually large percentage of the butter coming on the market is of an inferior quality. During the week new Irish potatoes advanced to luxury prices. But few old potatoes are now on the market. Green apples are practically off the market and but few oranges are offered. The supply of strawberries during the entire week was largely in excess of the demand. Cherries and gooseberries are beginning to come in quite freely, but are not fairly ripe. Receipts of pineapples are large beyond precedent, and so is the demand. Hides are dull and weak at the reduction in the early part of the week, but leather is fairly active with prices steady. Grocers had a good week, all staple groceries ruling firm in price. Stocks of canned goods and dried fruits of last year's purchase are well cleared out. No improvement is shown in wool. Iron and hardware merchants are enjoying the best trade in

The local grain market showed more activity last week than in any like period for some months past, and all cereals are in active request at prices quoted. Wheat, In dry salt 1/20 less.
Shoulders—16 lbs average, 91/40; 10 to 12 lbs avon Monday, corn half a cent lower and oats a quarter. The weaker tone to the grain market has increased receipts and it is expected the coming week's deliveries will be large, should the weather be suitable for moving grain. Speculation in stocks was more active this week, and the average of daily transactions were well over a million shares. The business done by commission houses afforded some indication of renewed interest in stocks on the part of the outside public for the first time since the overturn on May 9, but the principal force in the buying was, as heretofore, professional operations and the larger financial interests. It has been current belief that some of the large operations have been connected with the progress of establishing further community of interest among the railroad powers of the country. The professional operators in stocks have used every effort to foster this belief, to help the advance in prices. The heavy realizing at the higher level of prices disclosed the fact that some of the previous large buying was purely speculative, and this many of these reports added to the doubts regarding them. It is also known that short lines were driven to cover by the advance, and the manipulation for the advance was in part directed toward forcing this covering. Short selling was done last week in the incipiency of the advance, and was based on the assumption that, in the professional state of the market, reaction was normally due. Part of it was also incident of the bull movement in wheat, based on the reports of drought in the West. It was clear that holders of long stocks were taking advantage of the necessities of the shorts to market their holdings at a profit. A continuing influence, early in the week. was the official announcement made last week that the Northern Pacific quarrel had been settled. Nothing was given to the public regarding the terms of the settlement and rumor had a wide scope in consequence. The strength of Rock Island was supposed to be due to its inclusion in the benefit of the project, but was later explained by the issue of extra stock at par would be relinquished to the Pennsylvania, trunk-line outlet plan, and that Southern taining Central Pacific as sufficient to comers met many of these rumors. portant was the undisturbed course of busi- which the statement is compiled. The current of the gold movement continues away from us, owing to the abundance of our own production of that metal. In this condition of affairs American capital is likely to be left abroad in growing amounts, and to play its part in cheapening production of commodities with which to pay the debt owing to us. But the Closing Was a Trifle Lower-Hogs Active at Strong to Higher Figures-Markets Elsewhere.

The marketing of cattle this week has been large, the total showing an increase of 700 over last week, 2,100 over the same week a year ago and 2,200 over the corresponding week two years ago. Thus far this year there is a gain of 20,500 compared with the same period last year. From the beginning of the week there has been a very healthy demand for the thick fat, well-matured export cattle, and, notwithstanding the supplies of that class were much better than they have been for a long time, good clearances were made Receipts for the week, 19,000; last week, 20,500. a long time, good clearances were made every day and a steady average in prices was maintained. Export heifers sold as high as $5.25 and cows as high as $4.75. The worst feature of the trade this week had been the liberal marketing of common to medium cattle, especially in the female line, and, as expected, there was quite a falling off in the demand for that class, which resulted in a sharp reaction in values. At the close of the week heifers selling below $4.50 and cows below $4 were generally considered fully 50c lower than the high time, and there was a very indifferent demand at the no really urgent orders to be filled, but buyers took the offerings generally at steady prices compared with the market for equal kinds yesterday. The quality generally has been satisfactory, but there has been a scarcity of prime heavy butcher hogs. Only about one-half as many arrived to-day as a week ago, and fully 500 less than a year ago. The market opened with all buyers in the field, and with rather active competition the supply from the start changed hands promptly, and sales were usually at a shade better prices than the same kind markets were unfavorable, which naturally had a tendency to weaken this market, and there were a few scattering sales at the close that were no better than yesterday. A good clearance was made early however. Sales ranged from $5.70@5.921/2 but $5.771/2 was practically the low point and there were more hogs reported at $5.821/2 than any other price. Quotations:

There was an improvement to report in the marketing of sheep and lambs this week, there being about 1,200 more than last week. Compared with the same week a year ago there is very little change to two years ago there is a gain of 900. Thus far this year the receipts are over 14,000 larger than the same period last year. The week opened with the indications favoring lower prices, and later, with apparently lower level. There was a decline of about 25c early in the week, and about that much more change at the close of the week, which brought the basis down to an average of 50c below the close of last week. Spring lambs suffered the most, and are selling now about $1 per 100 lbs lower than ten days ago. The receipts today were very small, buyers were not interested to any extent and the trading was quiet, but sales do not show much change in prices. Spring lambs averaging 55 lbs sold at $4.75.
